Daycare – looking into maybe getting a different facility, buying a residence. Need to know what type of zoning needs to take place to move it to a different part of town. Jager believes this could be taken care of using a variance with potentially a public hearing, if needed. Carmen Gubrud will keep the city informed of the next steps if they choose to move forward in that direction. The current property of the daycare would most likely go up for sale; however, unsure at this time.
